

Beerology — Scoring Card

Beer:	_____	ABV:	_____
Brewery:	_____	Style (declared):	_____
Where / when:	_____

The eight axes (1–10)

Score the beer's experience, not the brewery's marketing. Anchors are calibration points.

AXIS	1 ANCHOR	SCALE (1 — 10)	10 ANCHOR
Body	Water-thin	☐☐☐☐☐☐☐☐☐☐☐☐ ← light heavy →	Barleywine / imperial stout heft
Bitterness	Barely there	☐☐☐☐☐☐☐☐☐☐☐☐ ← low aggressive →	West-coast IPA aggressive
Sweetness	Bone-dry	☐☐☐☐☐☐☐☐☐☐☐☐ ← dry sugary →	Milkshake IPA / pastry stout
Roast	None	☐☐☐☐☐☐☐☐☐☐☐☐ ← pale heavy char →	Imperial stout char / coffee
Fruit	Grain only	☐☐☐☐☐☐☐☐☐☐☐☐ ← clean expressive →	NEIPA / saison / fruited sour
Finish	Drops fast, clean	☐☐☐☐☐☐☐☐☐☐☐☐ ← brief persistent →	Lingers for minutes
Softness	Crisp / snappy	☐☐☐☐☐☐☐☐☐☐☐☐ ← sharp pillowy →	Pillowy / round
Complexity	One-note macro	☐☐☐☐☐☐☐☐☐☐☐☐ ← direct multi-layered →	Multiple layers (BA / Belgian)

Drinker cues — pick 3 or 4

- | | | |
|--|---|--|
| ☐ first-pint friendly | ☐ better on the second | ☐ quietly complex |
| ☐ session-safe | ☐ food-proof | ☐ cask purist territory |
| ☐ soft landing | ☐ sharp finish | ☐ best sipped slowly |
| ☐ low-noise pub classic | ☐ fireside | ☐ all-nighter risk |
| ☐ show-offy | ☐ roast-forward | ☐ contemplative |

What it feels like

One sentence, gut take. e.g. "Starts round, finishes firmer than it looks."

Beerology verdict

One closing line. e.g. "Built for repeat visits, not big entrances."